Executive Summary

Bangladesh Youth Coalition (BYC) has grown, within a single year, from a founding cohort of 21 organizations into a national coalition of 102 youth-led member organizations spanning all eight divisions and 64 districts of Bangladesh. Having moved past its formation phase, BYC now needs to replace its preliminary Terms of Reference with a signature-ready Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) and a coherent, annexure-based governance package covering leadership and elections, secretariat authority, membership, financial governance, communication, day-to-day operations, and safeguarding.

Youth For Change Bangladesh Foundation (YFC-BD), as BYC's Secretariat, has commissioned this consultancy to review existing arrangements, study relevant international and Bangladeshi coalition models, consult BYC's stakeholders, and draft, validate, and finalize this eight-annexure package over a three-month, phased engagement (September-November 2026).

ACNABIN, Chartered Accountants - an independent member firm of Baker Tilly International - proposes a structured, participatory methodology built around four pillars: (i) rigorous document review and reference-model benchmarking; (ii) inclusive Key Informant Interviews and stakeholder consultation across BYC's Executive Committee, Thematic Groups, Divisional structures, and member organizations; (iii) disciplined, cross-referenced drafting of the MoU and Annexures 1-8 in the three phased batches set out in the Terms of Reference; and (iv) iterative validation with the BYC MoU Development Committee to ensure the final package is practical, internally consistent, and ready for formal signature.

Our proposed deliverables mirror the Terms of Reference precisely: an inception note; Phase 1 draft and final Annexures 1-2 (MoU and Executive Committee Elections and Accountability); Phase 2 draft and final Annexures 3-5 (Secretariat Duties, Membership, and Financial Governance); Phase 3 draft and final Annexures 6-8 (Communication, Operations and Risk, and Safeguarding); and a final consolidated package with a feedback and revision matrix and a concise final consultancy report with a future policy roadmap.

ACNABIN brings to this assignment a combination of governance, institutional, and financial-management advisory experience relevant to coalitions, networks, and civil-society organizations operating across Bangladesh, together with the drafting discipline and quality-assurance culture of a professional accountancy and advisory firm. We are confident that our approach will deliver a governance package that protects member independence, clarifies authority and accountability, and equips BYC to operate, and grow, on a sound institutional footing.

Understanding of the Assignment

Client Context

Bangladesh Youth Coalition operates under the motto "One Voice · One Nation" as a national platform connecting youth-led organizations across Bangladesh's districts and divisions. It emerged from the Y-Moves Project - a joint initiative of Plan International Bangladesh and Youth For Change Bangladesh Foundation (YFC-BD), supported by SIDA - and was publicly launched in Dhaka on 27 May 2025. In little over a year, BYC has grown to 102 member organizations across all eight divisions and 64 districts, anchored the National Youth Conference 2025, delivered Civic Space Monitoring training to 151 participants, and represented Bangladesh at the Global SDG Youth Summit 2025.

BYC's work spans six thematic areas - climate action and environmental sustainability; gender equality, inclusion, diversity and child-marriage prevention; education, skills and digital transformation; peace, justice, strong institutions and policy advocacy; sexual and reproductive health rights; and youth leadership and networking. Its 11-member governing body currently has only three of eleven positions filled by election, with the remaining eight pending. YFC-BD serves as BYC's Secretariat and institutional home, supported by Plan International Bangladesh, the Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands, and the Shomotay Tarunno: Youth for Equality Project.

The Institutional Challenge

BYC's rapid growth has outpaced its founding documentation. The coalition currently operates on a preliminary Terms of Reference developed during a three-day residential workshop in May 2025. As membership, thematic activity, and donor engagement scale up, BYC needs a formal, signable Membership MoU and a practical, annexure-based governance package that clearly allocates authority between the Executive Committee, the Secretariat, Thematic Groups, Divisional/Regional structures, and the 102 member organizations - while preserving each member's legal and operational independence.

Key Requirements

- A single, internally consistent package rather than disconnected documents, with common terminology and clear cross-references between the main MoU and Annexures 1-8.
- A Membership MoU (Annexure 1) that is practical and signature-ready for organizations of widely varying size and capacity, with five supporting Annexes (A-E) on governance structure, member collaboration, decision-making, roles/accountability, and money/resource principles.
- A fair, transparent, and repeatable Executive Committee election and accountability framework (Annexure 2) that builds on, and completes, the currently partially elected 11-member governing body.
- Clear limits on the Secretariat's coordination role (Annexure 3), so that YFC-BD's institutional hosting is never read as unrestricted control over member organizations or elected bodies.
- Proportionate, diversity-sensitive membership arrangements (Annexure 4) that reflect the scale of 102 organizations across eight divisions.
- A financial governance framework (Annexure 5) that distinguishes ordinary membership from funded programme obligations, and aligns with YFC-BD's own financial and procurement policies and Bangladesh's tax/VAT requirements.
- Communication and coordination rules (Annexure 6), operational/grievance/risk arrangements (Annexure 7), and safeguarding, integrity and ethical-conduct standards (Annexure 8) appropriate to a youth-led, non-partisan national coalition.
- A phased delivery model - three deliverable batches over three months - with validation by the BYC Secretariat and the BYC MoU Development Committee at each stage, and a final consolidated, signature-ready package in editable Word and PDF formats.

Implementation Context

The assignment will run on a hybrid basis: document review, analysis, and drafting conducted remotely, with Key Informant Interviews, stakeholder consultations, and the validation meetings conducted in person, coordinated by the Secretariat. ACNABIN's Dhaka-based team is well positioned to combine remote drafting efficiency with the in-person engagement this assignment requires across BYC's national membership.

Objectives

Overall Objective

To review BYC's existing governance arrangements and develop, validate, and finalize an integrated, signature-ready Membership MoU and eight-Annexure institutional package that clarifies governance, accountability, membership, financial, communication, operational, and safeguarding arrangements across the coalition, while preserving member independence and BYC's youth-led, non-partisan character.

Specific Objectives

- Review the existing BYC ToR, governance and partnership documents, election-related materials, and relevant international and Bangladeshi reference models to identify what should be retained, revised, or replaced.
- Develop a signature-ready BYC MoU (Annexure 1, with Annexes A-E) for individual signature by each member organization with the Secretariat.
- Design a governance and coordination architecture (Annexure 1, Annex A) defining roles, authority, and reporting lines among the Executive Committee, Secretariat, member organizations, Thematic Groups, and Divisional/Regional structures.
- Develop an Executive Committee election and accountability framework (Annexure 2) covering composition, eligibility, nomination, election, decision-making, transition, and handover.
- Define the Secretariat's mandate, duties, and limits (Annexure 3).
- Develop membership categories, rights, responsibilities, and lifecycle arrangements (Annexure 4) proportionate to BYC's diverse membership base.
- Develop a financial governance framework (Annexure 5) covering budgeting, fund flow, approvals, reporting, and compliance for joint BYC work.
- Develop communication and coordination rules (Annexure 6), including branding, representation, and visibility.
- Develop practical day-to-day operations, grievance, dispute, and risk-management arrangements (Annexure 7), and flag future policy needs.
- Develop safeguarding, conflict-of-interest, confidentiality, and ethical-conduct provisions (Annexure 8).
- Present the draft package for stakeholder and BYC MoU Development Committee validation, incorporate feedback, and submit the final, signature-ready MoU and Annexure package in editable Word and PDF formats, together with a final consultancy report and future policy roadmap.

Scope of Work

Our scope of work follows the Terms of Reference exactly, organized into thirteen linked components covering inception, consultation, drafting principles, the eight substantive Annexures, validation, and final reporting.

5.1 Document Review and Inception

ACNABIN will review the existing BYC ToR, governance and partnership documents, meeting decisions, membership records, election-related materials, thematic and divisional structure information, safeguarding materials, and the international and Bangladeshi reference models identified in the Terms of Reference, and prepare an inception note confirming methodology, the KII/consultation plan, the drafting sequence for Annexures 1-8, the validation process, and any information gaps.

Why it matters: A shared, evidence-based starting point ensures the MoU package reflects BYC's actual structure and avoids re-litigating settled decisions.

Expected output: Inception note, work plan, and annexure drafting matrix, submitted by 12 September 2026.

5.2 KII and Stakeholder Consultation

We will conduct Key Informant Interviews and consultations with a representative mix of member organizations, Executive Committee representatives, Thematic Groups, Divisional/Regional structures, the BYC MoU Development Committee, and Secretariat representatives, gathering practical input on governance, elections, finances, communication, collaboration, safeguarding, and risk.

Why it matters: A governance package drafted without member input risks being unworkable in practice for organizations of very different sizes and capacities across eight divisions.

Expected output: Consultation findings log, clearly linked to specific drafting choices in each Annexure.

5.3 Development Principles for the Annexure-Based Package

All drafting will follow BYC's stated principles: one integrated package with consistent terminology; no conflicting provisions; clear allocation of authority; member legal and operational independence preserved except for expressly accepted commitments; the Secretariat's role framed as coordination, not control; financial obligations from joint grants kept distinct from ordinary membership; and detailed procedures placed in annexures/schedules with a defined amendment process.

Why it matters: These principles are the load-bearing logic of the whole package; applying them consistently is what prevents contradictions between annexures later in the assignment.

Expected output: A documented drafting-principles checklist applied and referenced during validation of every Annexure.

5.4 Annexure 1 - Memorandum of Understanding

Draft the core signable MoU between each member organization and the Secretariat, covering purpose, mutual commitments, independence, continuation, amendment, suspension/termination, confidentiality, dispute handling, transition, and signatures - together with five supporting parts: Annex A (Governance and Coordination Structure), Annex B (Member Collaboration Framework), Annex C (Decision-Making Framework), Annex D (Roles, Responsibilities and Accountability Matrix), and Annex E (Money and Resource Management Principles).

Why it matters: Annexure 1 is the legal spine of the whole package - every other Annexure operates within the relationship it establishes.

Expected output: Draft Annexure 1 (with Annexes A-E) and Draft Annexure 2 by 16 September 2026; Final Draft by 20 September 2026.

5.5 Annexure 2 - Executive Committee Elections and Accountability

Develop Annex A (Election Framework: structure, eligibility, nominations, voting, results, vacancies/ties, transition and handover) and Annex B (Accountability Framework: responsibilities, decision documentation, reporting to members, conflict-of-interest and non-performance handling), building on BYC's existing 11-member governing body.

Why it matters: With only three of eleven Executive Committee seats currently filled, a clear, repeatable election framework is central to BYC's near-term governance credibility.

Expected output: Draft and Final Draft submitted alongside Annexure 1 (16 and 20 September 2026).

5.6 Annexure 3 - Secretariat Duties and Authority

Define YFC-BD's role, responsibilities, and limits as Secretariat, covering meetings, administration, documentation, communication, programme support, partnership liaison, and financial oversight where relevant, plus reporting, continuity, and transition arrangements.

Why it matters: Clear limits protect both BYC's member independence and YFC-BD, by making explicit what the Secretariat may and may not do on the coalition's behalf.

Expected output: Draft by 25-29 October 2026 (Phase 2); Final Draft by 11 November 2026.

5.7 Annexure 4 - Membership Categories, Roles and Responsibilities

Define eligibility, categories/tiers, application and due-diligence procedures, approval, participation, periodic review, rights, responsibilities, and proportionate suspension, resignation, termination, appeal, and re-entry arrangements suited to 102 member organizations across eight divisions.

Why it matters: A workable membership lifecycle keeps the coalition's growth orderly as it moves from an informal founding cohort to a formal signatory base.

Expected output: Draft by 25-29 October 2026 (Phase 2); Final Draft by 11 November 2026.

5.8 Annexure 5 - Financial Governance Framework

Set out budgeting, fund receipt/transfer/spending approval, documentation and reporting, accountability, donor/legal/tax/VAT requirements, financial checks, advances, unspent balances, assets, in-kind contributions, and corrective action for funded joint work - aligned with YFC-BD's own financial and procurement policies, and stating clearly that ordinary membership creates no automatic financial entitlement or liability.

Why it matters: As BYC's donor engagement grows, an explicit financial framework prevents disputes over who is responsible for what, and protects both the Secretariat and members.

Expected output: Draft by 25-29 October 2026 (Phase 2); Final Draft by 11 November 2026.

5.9 Annexure 6 - Communication and Coordination Rules

Set practical rules for internal coordination channels, meeting notices/minutes, information sharing and reporting, authorized spokespersons, use of the BYC name/logo/branding, external representation, media engagement, donor/partner visibility, confidentiality, and the distinction between informal member communication and official coalition communication.

Why it matters: A national coalition of 102 organizations needs unambiguous rules on who may speak for BYC to avoid reputational and coordination risk.

Expected output: Draft by 15-19 November 2026 (Phase 3); Final Draft by 18-19 November 2026.

5.10 Annexure 7 - Day-to-Day Operations, Grievance and Risk Management

Describe how regular meetings, working groups, Thematic Groups, Divisional coordination, joint campaigns and programmes are organized and documented; set out fair grievance and complaint-handling arrangements; and establish basic identification, management, reporting, and response arrangements for governance, financial, operational, safeguarding, partnership, and reputational risk, flagging future policy needs.

Why it matters: Predictable operating rhythms and a fair grievance channel reduce the likelihood that day-to-day friction escalates into governance disputes.

Expected output: Draft by 15-19 November 2026 (Phase 3); Final Draft by 18-19 November 2026.

5.11 Annexure 8 - Safeguarding, Integrity, Independence and Ethical Conduct

Bring together safeguarding, conflict of interest, confidentiality and privacy, respectful and non-discriminatory conduct, responsible communication, non-partisan conduct, prevention of harassment, exploitation, or abuse, and proper use of the BYC name/branding, written so that members and representatives can readily understand expected behaviour and how concerns are reported and handled.

Why it matters: As a youth-facing coalition, BYC's credibility depends on visible, understandable safeguarding and integrity standards.

Expected output: Draft by 15-19 November 2026 (Phase 3); Final Draft by 18-19 November 2026.

5.12 Validation and Finalization

Submit and present the package in the three phased batches for review by the BYC Secretariat, the BYC MoU Development Committee, and other designated stakeholders; maintain a feedback and revision matrix throughout; resolve cross-annexure inconsistencies; and consolidate all eight annexures into one final package with Annexure 1 signature blocks, in editable MS Word and PDF formats.

Why it matters: Structured, tracked validation is what turns eight separately drafted annexures into one coherent, board-approved package.

Expected output: Feedback and revision matrix, and a consolidated final package, by 24 November 2026.

5.13 Final Consultancy Report and Future Policy Roadmap

Prepare a concise final report covering methodology, document review, reference-model analysis, the KII/consultation process, key findings, major governance choices, validation feedback, final outputs, any unresolved issues, and recommendations for future BYC policy and guideline development.

Why it matters: The roadmap gives BYC a clear list of second-tier policies to develop after this engagement, so institutional strengthening continues beyond the MoU package itself.

Expected output: Final consultancy report, submitted with the consolidated package by 24 November 2026.

5.14 Out of Scope

In line with the Terms of Reference, the following are explicitly excluded from this assignment:

- Internal governance, policies, or management of individual member organizations.
- Donor-specific programme agreements, sub-grant contracts, or funding proposals.
- Detailed financial manuals, accounting systems, or audit frameworks for YFC-BD or member organizations.
- Human resource policies for the Secretariat or member organizations.
- Fundraising strategy or donor engagement plans for BYC.
- Legal incorporation of BYC as a separate registered entity.
- Implementation, rollout, signing facilitation, or training on the MoU after delivery.
- Individual capacity assessments of member organizations.

Methodology and Approach

Guiding Approach

ACNABIN's methodology is built on a single principle drawn directly from the Terms of Reference: the MoU and its eight Annexures must be developed, reviewed, and finalized as one integrated package, not eight independent documents. We will maintain a live cross-reference and terminology register from the inception stage onward, checked at every validation point, so that consistency is engineered into the drafting process rather than fixed at the end.

Phase 1 - Inception, Document Review and Reference-Model Analysis

We will review BYC's existing ToR, governance documents, election materials, and thematic/divisional structure information, and analyze the international (Girls Not Brides, the Brave Movement/Together for Girls, MenEngage Alliance, SUN Movement, FP2030, Global Partnership to End Violence Against Children, Joining Forces) and Bangladeshi (Citizen's Platform for SDGs Bangladesh, NGCAF, CAMPE, CRACB) reference models identified in the Terms of Reference, extracting lessons on membership agreement design, tiering, governance-body structure, authority and accountability flows, financial management, communication and representation controls, divisional coordination, and election/transition arrangements. This informs the inception note and drafting matrix.

Phase 2 - Stakeholder Consultation

Consultation runs alongside drafting rather than as a single up-front step. We will conduct KIIs and small-group consultations with member organizations, Executive Committee representatives, Thematic Groups, Divisional/Regional structures, the BYC MoU Development Committee, and Secretariat staff, with targeted follow-up discussions timed to each annexure batch so that emerging drafts are continuously tested against real stakeholder input rather than validated only after the fact.

Phase 3 - Drafting

Drafting follows the three phased batches set out in the Terms of Reference: Batch 1 (Annexures 1-2), Batch 2 (Annexures 3-5), and Batch 3 (Annexures 6-8). Each annexure is drafted against the development principles in Section 5.3 of this proposal, cross-checked against the terminology register, and reviewed internally by ACNABIN's quality-assurance reviewer before submission to the Secretariat.

Phase 4 - Validation and Revision

Each batch is presented to the BYC Secretariat and the BYC MoU Development Committee at the scheduled validation meetings. We will log every comment in a feedback and revision matrix, resolve any inconsistencies the comments surface against annexures from earlier phases, and confirm agreed changes in writing before proceeding to the next batch.

Phase 5 - Consolidation and Finalization

Following validation of all three batches, we will consolidate Annexures 1-8 into a single, internally consistent package, insert signature blocks in Annexure 1, and deliver the final package in editable MS Word and PDF formats together with the feedback and revision matrix and the final consultancy report and policy roadmap.

Quality Assurance and Risk Management

Quality Assurance

- Every Annexure is drafted against the shared terminology register and the development principles set out in Section 5.3 before internal QA review.
- An independent QA Reviewer, not involved in drafting a given Annexure, checks it for internal consistency with annexures from earlier phases before submission to the Secretariat.
- Each phased batch is validated by the BYC Secretariat and BYC MoU Development Committee before the next phase of drafting proceeds, so unresolved issues are not carried forward.
- A feedback and revision matrix is maintained throughout the assignment to give the Secretariat full visibility of how comments were addressed.

Key Implementation Risks and Mitigation

Risk	Likelihood / Impact	Mitigation
Delayed Executive Committee elections affect Annexure 2 drafting	Medium / Medium	Draft the election framework as a standalone, adoptable mechanism independent of when the outstanding eight seats are filled
Conflicting stakeholder input across 102 diverse member organizations	Medium / Medium	Use structured KII protocols and a transparent feedback matrix; escalate unresolved disagreements to the BYC MoU Development Committee
Scheduling in-person KIIs and validation meetings across eight divisions	Medium / Low	Combine in-person sessions with remote/hybrid consultation options; early joint scheduling with the Secretariat
Scope overlap with funded programme agreements (e.g., Shomotay Tarunno)	Low / Medium	Maintain the Out-of-Scope boundary in Section 5.14 and flag any overlap to the Secretariat immediately
Compressed timeline given the assignment start date	Medium / Medium	Front-load inception and reference-model review; begin rolling consultation immediately after inception

Escalation and Management Approach

Any expected delay, information gap, scope issue, or risk to completion will be communicated to the Secretariat promptly, consistent with Section 8.1 of the Terms of Reference. The Engagement Director will act as the single point of escalation for the Secretariat throughout the assignment.

Conclusion

Bangladesh Youth Coalition stands at a pivotal point in its institutional development: a coalition of 102 member organizations across all eight divisions that has outgrown its founding Terms of Reference and now needs a formal, workable governance package to match its scale and ambition. ACNABIN understands both the substance of what is required - a signature-ready MoU and eight cross-referenced Annexures - and the participatory, phased process by which the Terms of Reference asks for it to be built.

We are confident that our structured methodology, our commitment to the development principles set out in the Terms of Reference, and our disciplined approach to quality assurance and stakeholder validation will deliver a governance package that protects member independence, clarifies authority and accountability, and gives BYC a sound institutional foundation for its next phase of growth. We look forward to the opportunity to support Youth For Change Bangladesh Foundation (YFC-BD) and the BYC membership through this assignment.
